PAC KID SPOTLIGHT

ASHLEY CORRELL

Elizabethtown
High School

What have you participated in at the PAC?

I have been able to perform in many Youth Theater of Hardin County productions such as Guys and Dolls, Cats, and Mary Poppins as well as Missoula Children's Theater Productions.

What did you learn from your experiences?

Being able to perform at the PAC has taught me a lot about life on stage and off. I have been able to grow as an actor and learn so much about getting out in front of others and sharing my passions.

What do you want to be when you grow up?

I would like to study Broadcast Journalism in college, as well as always keep theater in my life. Fields like being a news anchor or a television personality intrigue me because of the public outlets they provide.

How has the PAC helped you toward that goal?

The PAC has provided me with an opportunity to grow in front of an audience. My personality and longing to be in the spotlight was created on the PAC stage. If I had not had the opportunity to perform starting from a young age right here in Elizabethtown, my goals would be drastically different.

Why is the PAC important to you?

The first time I walked through the PAC doors, I was three years old. Ever since that day, that very stage felt like home. The PAC has influenced my life so much by giving me an opportunity to perform in an incredible environment and learn about the theater community, both on and off stage.
