PAC KID SPOTLIGHT

FLASHBACK

Jared Baird

John Hardin High School

This month we have a special "Flashback" edition of the PAC Kid Spotlight as we revisit John Hardin High School student, Jared Baird. Jared was recognized as a PAC Kid back in January of 2016 when he was an eighth grader, and now that he's a senior and back working with us as a PAC Aide, we thought it would be interesting to find out how being involved in the arts has made a difference in his life.

What have you participated in at the PAC?

I have participated in numerous Missoula Children's Theatre productions throughout middle school and smaller shows from JHHS drama classes. This year, I am working as a PAC Aide.

What do you want to be when you grow up?

I want to work in film/television production from writing to acting to editing to directing – I want to do it all!

How has the PAC helped you toward that goal?

With full experience of working onstage and offstage, I truly understand the endurance and determination required to leave the audience with something they'll never forget.

Why is the PAC important to you?

The PAC is important to me because it has introduced me to other individuals who have the same interests as I do! It creates an ecosystem of people that feels like a second family.
