

This month The PAC Spotlight shines on:

Yemi Abigail Taylor, T. K. Stone Middle School

What do you want to do when you grow up?

Either a Counselor or an Arts and Humanities (emphasis on Choir/Drama/Choreography) Middle and High School Teacher

What have you seen at the PAC?

The Nutcracker, Cinderella, The Little Mermaid, Beauty and the Beast, Peter Pan, and Mary Poppins

What have you participated in at the PAC?

Gulliver's Travels, Robin Hood, and Center Stage ballet performances

What have been your most rewarding PAC experiences?

Robin Hood

What did you learn from your PAC experiences?

That the "behind scenes" of every performance is hours of hard work that is put into the show. People say that performing is stupid but they don't know how rewarding it is. And the rush of the action and drama is a reward in itself.

How have you benefited from the PAC?

It inspired my love for acting and had provided me a chance to improve my skills while I was still homeschooled.

Why is the PAC important to you?

The shows are so thrilling to watch and give me so much joy. It's like escaping to another reality where I can just enjoy myself and the drama around me.

Why should the PAC be important to others?

So many people don't know about the amazing opportunities the PAC provides. People also underestimate how amazing the Performing Arts are. And being a part of one – just one performance – is life changing.

Do you have any other comments you'd like to share?

I've always been very impressed with how the PAC operates and lets ordinary people have a chance being a star. It's an amazing experience I won't ever forget.
